

Skin and bones

The Material

In dark corners hidden from the light
Lives a secret they try to hide
Cuts and bruises, a thousand broken dreams
The whispers drown out the screams

Can you see my eyes?
Can you hear me cry?
You don't know my name, feel the shame
Deep down inside
If you wanna know where this story goes
We all bleed the same, stop the pain
Bring back a life.

You can't buy my love
I know I'm not in this alone.
I'm not for sale.
I know I'm more than skin and bone

We're the daughters that grew up too fast
Never knowing that love could last
We're surrounded, feeling alone
I need a life to call my own.

Would you save a life,
stand up join the fight
We could be the change, end the shame
Deep down inside
If you wanna know where this story goes
We all play the same, stop the pain
Bring back our life

You can't buy my love.
I know I'm not in this alone
I'm not for sale.
I know I'm more than skin and bone

Give me salvation, give me freedom
Don't leave me behind
You can't buy my love.
I know I'm more than skin and bone
Skin and bone

Give me a life of my own
I know I'm more than skin and bone
Give me a life of my own
I know I'm more than skin and bone

You can't buy my love.
I know I'm not in this alone.
I'm not for sale.
I know I'm more than skin and bone

Give me salvation, give me freedom
Don't leave me behind
You can't make me crawl
I know I'm not all skin and bone
Skin and bone
