

Tonight I'm Letting Go

The Material

I tried to leave today folded up the past and turned to walk away
But my feet were glued and so I stayed
I looked into my hands heavy with the burden of our broken plans
And that's when I closed the door and ran

You held me down, no room to grow
Just so you know...tonight I'm letting go
They say you reap the seeds you sow
And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go

The memories resound inside my head of days before this hope was found
But tonight, I'll turn it all around
I look up to the sky remember when you said that I would never fly
You clipped my wings, but watched me try

You held me down, no room to grow
Just so you know...tonight I'm letting go
They say you reap the seeds you sow
And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go

Hey
I held onto your doubting words so tight
But I made it out alive
You said that I had set my sights too high
But look at me now

You held me down, no room to grow
And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go

You held me down, no room to grow
Just so you know...tonight I'm letting go
They say you reap the seeds you sow
And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go

And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go
Tonight I'm letting go
And just so you know...tonight I'm letting go
