

Only You and Your Ghost Will Know

The Mekons

The friends you have found
It's like they've all gone to ground
The company you're keeping's
The same as when you're sleeping
The same as when you're dreaming

You've got just one sympathetic companion
First the chill and then the stupor
Then the letting go
If you found one thing out on that road
Only you and your ghost will know
Was there a place to leave or a place to go?
A mouth to kiss or a hand to hold?
Only you and your ghost will know
