Deep Blue

The Midnight

I wasn't looking for action, just some distraction
Just a little weeknight, booth in the back
I wasn't looking for romance, just a quick slow dance
On the off chance that an off night and a side glance
Might lead me to the wrong hands

I wasn't looking for you

I wasn't after forever, just for whatever
I was one of the dark hearts who thought that they'd never Truly be opened, but this is an explosion
Of star-crossed and blood-rushed
And hair-tossed and cheeks flushed and weeks lost

I wasn't looking for you

I said, "I've never felt my heart like this"
She said, "I've never felt my body"
I always thought the point of love was just
To keep from, to keep from
Falling into the deep blue, the deep blue
Falling into the deep blue, the deep blue

I wasn't looking for devotion, just cheap emotion
But I found love, I found love like an ocean
On my second whiskey, your eyes try to miss me
They lost control, I didn't know I had a soul
Until the moment you kissed me

I wasn't looking for you

I said, "I've never felt my heart like this"
She said, "I've never felt my body"
I always thought the point of love was just
To keep from, to keep from
Falling into the deep blue, the deep blue
Falling into the deep blue, the deep blue

I wasn't looking for action, just some distraction
Just a little weeknight, booth in the back
I wasn't looking for romance, just a quick slow dance
On the off chance that an off night and a side glance
Might lead me to the wrong hands
