

Devil Make A Deal

The Midnight

Once there was a man with good intentions
And some people at home he forgot to mention
She was looking for a friend and he was willing to listen
Once there was a man with good intentions

And nobody has to know
It's all right, it's all right to let go
And nobody has to see
What's between you and me

Is you and me
Is you and me

Once there was a girl who thought she needed to be saved
By a white knight on a white horse in a white cape
Maybe he's taken but you'll take him anyway
Once there was a girl who thought she needed to be saved

And nobody has to know
It's all right, it's all right to let go
And nobody has to see
What's between you and me

Is you and me
Is you and me

I don't wanna change your mind
But I don't wanna go home tonight
Tell me no or I'm coming over
Let the devil make a deal with the angel on your shoulder

Is you and me