A Sea of Roses

The Milk Carton Kids

I lose sleep at night like a young man who's in the fight of his young life

I have never known the way the wind would blow if everything we re fine

I'm scared that when I die I'll be alone with no one sitting by my side

No, I do not think that I could be alone when I die

Lay me down in the ground Put me back into the earth Among all of my friends Under a blanket of roses A sea of flowers overhead

A field outside of Nashville pitches color to the dreariness of day

So the air hangs soft and tender, blowing around my thoughts wh ichever way

Where hills, they rise for miles and miles, I recognize the cry in' in the wind

I hear people come from everywhere to say goodbye sweetlike to their kin

Lay me down in the ground, put me back into the earth Among all of my friends under a blanket of roses A sea of flowers overhead

That is right, I don't believe any more than sky's above It's just me and those I've loved under a blanket of roses A sea of flowers overhead When I die
