

Unwinnable War

The Milk Carton Kids

I belong to places in between
I've been wrong many times before
Chosen sides in an unwinnable war
So badly I needed something to fight for

I've been open, I've been gone
I've been hoping for so long
Go on and take all you can from me
Hoping no one notices when I take my leave

I am blind in the unforgiving face
Of what I find and what has been erased
Paralyzed and held at bay
So badly I needed something I could change
