

I'm Afraid To Love You

The Mills Brothers

I'm afraid to love you, afraid I might like it
I'm afraid to hold you, afraid I might like it
When your lips invite me, to steal a kiss or two
I'm tempted, but I never follow through

I'm afraid you'll thrill me, thrill me then leave me
Oh what's another heart or two to you
If I act like a stranger, it's because I see the danger
I'm afraid to love you, but I'm afraid I do

I'm afraid to love you, afraid I might like it
I'm afraid to hold you, afraid I might like it
When your lips invite me, to steal a kiss or two
I'm tempted, but I never follow through

I'm afraid you'll thrill me, thrill me then leave me
Oh what's another heart or two to you
If I act like a stranger, it's because I see the danger
I'm afraid to love you, but I'm afraid I do

I'm afraid you'll thrill me, thrill me then leave me
Oh what's another heart or two to you
If I act like a stranger, it's because I see the danger
I'm afraid to love you, but I'm afraid I do
