

Monster

The Moth & The Flame

I was around for the making
I was around for the show
After the music had ended
You said what does it even mean?
Now you know

One more believer in people
One more subscriber to hope
One more reminder of how you felt
When you knew you were never alone
Now you know

You think you ran forever on your own
I lent you more than you could hold
That was so long ago
You ran, and now

You think you ran forever on your own
I lent you more than you could hold
That was so long ago
You ran

Think you ran forever on your own
I lent you more than you could hold
That was so long ago
You ran, now you know
You know

One more reminder of how you felt
When you knew you were never alone
Now you know

You're a monster please
Don't run from me
You monster please
Don't

You're a monster
Please don't run from me
I've lost my mind
But it's about time
It feels so long ago
You ran, you know
You're on your own
You're on your own
