

The New Great Depression

The Moth & The Flame

Breathe it in, let it out, so familiar now
Welcome home, been a while
Since you came around
I was young, saw your face
When the lights went out
When the lights went out

I'm fine, don't ask, the truth is
I'm nightmares underneath, it's useless
Oh well, who cares, the proof is
The monster in my head is ruthless

Up at night, feeling down, am I all alone
Hide away from it all, in a stranger's home
Is it me? Is it you? Can I trust myself?
I need some help

I'm fine, don't ask, the truth is
I'm nightmares underneath, it's useless
Oh well, who cares, the proof is
The monster in my head is ruthless

Welcome the new Great Depression
Welcome the new Great Depression
Welcome the new Great Depression
Welcome the new Great Depression

I'm fine, don't ask, the truth is
I'm nightmares underneath, it's useless
Oh well, who cares, the proof is
The monster in my head is ruthless

Welcome the new Great Depression
