

Golden

The Movement

Frost say nothing gold can stay
I guess you can't measure how much a soul can weigh
And I'll never let this love unfold and fray
So my heart will stay golden after I'm old and grey
Frost say Eden- ya know it sank to grief
Don't mean to offend you but it's not my belief
Wanna scream to the world- there's only hope and peace
When you have a gold heart and give away the gold leaf

Frost say nature's first green is gold
But depending on whether the prior scene is told, it's a cycle
Forever infinity remolds the heavens
Relax and let the dream unfold

And why is it so hard for us to see
I'm thinking maybe we're all just in such a rush to be somebody
But first ya know we must be free
And in time you will say- first I must be me...

Frost say nothing gold can stay
I guess you can't measure how much a soul can weigh
And I'll never let this love unfold and fray
So my heart will stay golden after I'm old and grey
Frost say Eden- ya know it sank to grief
Don't mean to offend you but it's not my belief
Wanna scream to the world- there's only hope and peace
When you have a gold heart and give away the gold leaf

Blessed be the water
New wave we honor
Lessons we a keep know gratitude we shout out
Live for each day inside its golden hour
Can't hold it in just give it away

Why frightened men keep fighting always?
Big world asleep but it turning
But the love will increase it no worry
Anywhere we grow the gold seed it returning
Ours is a story that begins today
Who with the power don't forget the grace

Blessed be the water
New wave we honor
Lessons we a keep know gratitude we shout out
We'll be together then
We all recover
Can't keep it in just give it away

Frost say nothing gold can stay
I guess you can't measure how much a soul can weigh
And I'll never let this love unfold and fray
So my heart will stay golden after I'm old and grey
Frost say Eden- ya know it sank to grief
Don't mean to offend you but it's not my belief
Wanna scream to the world- there's only hope and peace
When you have a gold heart and give away the gold leaf
