

Become Undone

The Muffs

You're not at all like anyone, I know now
And if you think you're better off, and know how

Nobody else could ever
You're gonna be the same before long, you'll see

Then everything I say to you, would be wrong
And it'll get right back to me, before long
And it'll take a little time
You're gonna be a lot of soul
And now you finding someone else I know now

Become undone, become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone, become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone
Become undone

Now if you think I'm feeling fine, excuse me
I never thought that you would lie, amuse me
And now I'll never play your game
I know you'll never be the same
To me I wanted more, and now I'm gone

Become undone, become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone, become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone, become undone, become undone
Become undone
Become undone

Become undone, become undone, become undone, become undone
...
