

Basically thinking of basically wondering why.

Your watch is ticking fast, your mind is running slow.
The rain is trickling down.

It's a meantime madness today
And life's just passin you by.

'Cause you're basically thinkin of
basically wondering why.
Basically never like to know
'Cause you're basically out of luck
you're basically growing old
Life has basically been told.

Let me be your strength
let me hold your body's weight
I wanna walk for you.

In your heart you feel your walking memory
But to me you're so alive.
How do you hold inside the rage that you must feel Watching your body give up on you.

'Cause you're basically thinkin of
basically wondering why.
Basically never like to know
'Cause you're basically out of luck
you're basically growing old
Life has basically been told.

Since I was a child
the thing that'll pick me up.
I'll do the same for you

'Cause you're basically thinkin of
basically wondering why.
Basically never like to know
'Cause you're basically out of luck
you're basically growing old
Life has basically been told.

Let me be your strength let me hold your body's weight
I wanna walk for you
I wanna walk for you
