

Hung Up

The Mysterines

Why is this bedroom so cold?
I can't face silence alone
Unrested, but touching
In the hope of feeling something
Why can't you keep me on your side?
There's always something to hide
The lonely girl inside me
Sometimes tries to get free

Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing
Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing

Your kiss is tough to resist
That cruelty upon your lips
But we will never be lovers
From what fate has put upon us
The sky hung up is so dark
My words like bullets through your heart
But I will keep on trying
'Cause I like to watch you dying

Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing
Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing

You know it breaks me
You keep lying
(All hung up on, all hung up on, all hung up on you)
But now that you need me
There's no use in trying

Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing
Will you ever come and let me know?
'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing

(You know it breaks me) Will you ever come and let me know?
(You keep lying) 'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing
(But now that you need me) Will you ever come and let me know?
(There's no use in trying) 'Cause you always leave me hanging me on, I'm hung up on you
Holding on to something
Hung up on you
Holding on to nothing
