

Inside A Matchbox

The Mysterines

I must admit
You've had me trapped inside your matchbox
For too long now
The sweetness of
Desperate whispers on this mattress
Dreaming radioactive
So gently

I didn't find you
Where I thought you'd be
But just as I found you
The matchbox was shut on me

And then
All there was just aching silence
My heart, a stray dog crying

Why don't you
Just let the light in
I've been waiting
So long, I've become a stranger
Haunting

I didn't find you
Where I thought you'd be
But just as I found you
The matchbox was shut on me

I didn't find you
Where I thought you'd be
But just as I found you
Just as I found you
I've finally found you
The matchbox is shut on me

When I finally found you
The matchbox was shut on me
When I finally found you
The matchbox was shut on me

When I finally found you
I've finally found you
I've finally found you
