

Anywhere

The National Parks

I don't know when it will be
I don't know you and you don't know me
But every song, every line
They are yours and you are mine

And all I know is I would go anywhere, anywhere
All I know is I would go anywhere for you

Where did you go when you fell
From the sky, only time will tell
And I will try to not get lost
To meet you where our paths cross

And all I know is I would go anywhere, anywhere
All I know is I would go anywhere for you

I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
I will run to you, I will run
