

Old Enough To Know Bitter

The New Amsterdams

never said forever i'm sorry if i did one storm i couldn't weather baby, it's high time to go home

if you can forgive me you just may have to forget let's not lament without living

young enough to stay friends for all the times to remember
baby, it's high time to go home
