

These days, they seem so
Close and yet so far away
It's a small price to have to pay
For you

I'm so engrossed in every word she says
It's like I'm just thinking
We're up and down
But still she's laughing in the rain

There's a way to reach the sunlight in my mind
And I'll take you there for nothing

Felicity, your smile
Does it make you feel better that it holds me together?

She's my elixir
She's the cure of cures
To see that face in another place
Makes me just want more

There's a way to reach the sunlight in my mind
And I'll take you there for nothing

Felicity, your smile
Does it make you feel better that it holds me together?

Felicity, your smile
Does it make you feel better that it holds me together?

Felicity, your smile
It laughs at me but treats me better
Than I
