

Isn't

The Night Café

Isn't it funny?
You said you would have grown
I thought you loved me
Who says I should have known?
What have I become?

But I can't stand you now
No, I can't stand you now
To go from love is so absurd
It pains me still to say that word
But I love you still

Isn't she lovely?
Truer words I've never spoke
'Cause when I thought you loved me
Who says I should have known?
What have I become?

But I can't stand you now
No, I can't stand you now
To go from love is so absurd
It pains me still to say that word
But I love you still

Is it really you
That I'm dreaming of?
When I've had enough of it all?
What else can I do?
When I'm down in a hole
Thinking that I should have

I should have known
I should have known

That I can't stand you now
No, I can't stand you now
To go from love is so absurd
It pains me still to say that word
But I love you still

No, I love you still
No, I love you still
