

Change

The Night Flight Orchestra

Missing your chance as it passes by
It's so hard to take it in
All of the fears that I left behind
Crawling back inside my mind
Just when it should begin

A million dreams all fading into blue
Don't wanna let you see me as I'm falling through

Change
Trying to make amends
This is how it ends
There's nothing I can do to make you stay
Make it start again
As a long lost friend
There's nothing I can do to make you change

Staying alive as your spirit drowns
In the gravity of now
Look at those wings nailed to the ground
How they once was heaven bound
Just when it should begin
A million dreams all fading into blue
No one but you could catch me as I'm falling through

Change
Trying to make amends
This is how it ends
There's nothing I can do to make you stay
Make it start again
As a long lost friend
There's nothing I can do to make you change

How I'm longing for the innocence of sound
As the silence weighs me down
I can feel it coming
We can't turn this thing around

Change
Trying to make amends
This is how it ends
There's nothing I can do to make you stay
Make it start again
As a long lost friend
There's nothing I can do to make you change
