

Moments Of Thunder

The Night Flight Orchestra

Ain't it funny how love rushes in
Like a fool you don't know where to stop
Or begin
Is it the truth?
Or illusions you kept
Like remnants of youth

I've been trying to keep love away
Never knew what to do, how to make someone stay
But since you came
I don't care anymore
And I know who's to blame

These are the moments of thunder
These are the times
Out of the blue, lightning strikes
These are the moments of thunder
These are the times of our lives
Don't you worry
'Bout a thing
Magic's waiting
To begin

Ain't it funny how death closes in
When you think of the end
It's about to begin
If you were mine
All the dreams that I kept
They'd be yours anytime

These are the moments of thunder
These are the times
Out of the blue, lightning strikes
These are the moments of thunder
These are the times of our lives
Don't you worry
'Bout a thing
Magic's waiting
To begin
