

Shrink

The Notwist

It shifts you grips you
Takes all your friends away from you
Say: face me, embrace me
Take all these friends away from me

Are you here?
Two hours and two more
And you're near

I get smaller 'cause I drive
Until I'm tiny when I'm back at home
So tiny I can't
Even climb a chair

I can't call you I can't write
I can't reach the phone can't reach the light
That's why I never
Never wanna go from here

It shifts you grips you
Takes all your friends away from you
Say: face me embrace me
Take all these friends away from me

Are you here?
Two hours and two more
And you're near

Are you here?
Are you here?
