

Old Family Love

The Oak Ridge Boys

She steps into a permanent spot formed by his embrace
And the light that shines in her eyes puts a smile on his face
They dance across the floor without saying a word
Each knowing what the other's thinking of
They're lost in the sweet melody of an old familiar love

As smooth as the passing of time they move as one
When the music has faded away they're still dancing on
And she just giggles with a blush
Safe in the warm gentle arms of an old familiar love

Soft as a whisper silent as a stone
True as the stars that shine
A love that stays forever young
But stands the test of time

She reaches her hand back for his as they walk off the floor
Without looking he's reaching for hers like all those times before
So sure of one another, her hand slips into his
And their hearts are dancing to the touch
Sharing the comfort they've found in an old familiar love
