

Promised Land

The Oak Ridge Boys

Don't weep for me when I'm dead and gone
For I'll just be going home
Heaven's light will shine on me
It will lead me to Eternity

When I take my final breath
Lay these feeble bones to rest
And I will run through Heaven's gates
Where my blessed Savior waits

And He will take me by my hand
And I'll be happier than I've ever been
Now don't you worry, we'll meet again
And stay together in the Promised Land

I will hear my momma sing
Feel my daddy's arms holding me
And I will cry tears of joy
When I see friends who've gone before

Oh He's gonna take me by my hand
And I'm gonna be happier than I've ever been
Now don't you worry, we'll meet again
And stay together in the Promised Land
