

Till I See You Again

The Oak Ridge Boys

Here I am dreamin' again
Another sunrise remembering when
We used to write them all down
Through all the space and the time
Somewhere above all the stars in the sky
Patiently wait for my hand
'Til I see you again

'Til I see you again
I will be lost
'Til I see you again
I will never be whole
One day I'll find a smile
That'll start at your blue eyes
And go for a mile
But right now my heart will not mend
'Til I see you again

If tomorrow was guaranteed
Every sunset would shine right down on you and me
And forever would never end
But I know god's got a plan
And who am I to try and understand
All I do is pray amen
'Til I see you again

'Til I see you again
I will be lost
'Til I see you again
I will never be whole
One day I'll find a smile
That'll start at your blue eyes
And go for a mile
But right now my heart will not mend
'Til I see you again

Lonely is my only friend
'Til I see you again
