

Ptolemy Was Wrong

The Ocean Collective

I
Can tell you what I've seen
I can no longer believe
I, I can't tell you how I feel
I do no longer believe
I, I can't tell you how I feel

There's no ambiguity:
If Venus shows all phases like the moon
The earth must revolve 'round the sun
But no one will believe me:
It's like nothing
Like nothing I've seen was for real

It's all real...

I no longer believe
But maybe I should keep this to myself
I raised my eyes
Up high toward the night sky
I've been searching for the eyes divine
In countless nights
But I found the watchmaker was blind

There's no ambiguity:
If Venus shows all phases like the moon
The earth must revolve 'round the sun
But no one will believe me:
It's like nothing (It's like nothing)
Like nothing I've seen was for real
