Prisoners

The Only Ones

I remember your face Distorted with anger I was out of place As I filled the room with laughter I know I was

You've come back for more You've got something to sell I heard it before, baby There ain't no use in telling me I know, I know, I know

For you to act this way
There must be a reason
It hurts me to say it
But it sure looks like treason
I know, I know, I know, I know

Perhaps we'll meet again
On the outside
If I look you in the eye
Will I try to hide or will it be the same

The chain of events
Overtook our lives
We were thrown together
And together we survived the ordeal

Confined within a space so small We helped each other over the wall
