

Win It All

The Orion Experience

Your heart's been broken, and your life's in disarray
You want to take back all the bad mistakes you've made
It doesn't seem you have a soul worth being saved

(All of your dreams are slipping away)

Your clock is ticking, now you're running out of time
A voice inside you says, "you're done, you're past your prime"
Fair-weather friends have gone and left you far behind

(Seems like your world is slipping away)

But oh, oh, I want you to know
That you, you, will always be a star
You're gonna shine again like a Super Nova
It ain't over, till it's over

When the world pushes you down (You get back up)
And when it knocks you around (You get back up)
And now you fight a little harder (You get back up)
And now you see a little farther (You get back...)

Up on your feet every time you fall, so please don't give up now
Cause you're gonna win it all

You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all

When you were young, the world, it seemed so different
A happy time before you lost your innocence
Where did it go, how did you fall so far from it

(Look at yourself you're slipping away)

And now the streets you roam, are cold and desolate
The only company you keep is your regret
You've had enough you want to put an end to it

(Look at yourself you're fading away)

But, oh, oh, I need you to know
That you, you, will always be a child
You're gonna smile again, my lucky clover
It ain't over, till it's over

When the world pushes you down (You get back up)
And when it knocks you around (You get back up)
And now you fight a little harder (You get back up)
And now you see a little farther (You get back...)

Up on your feet every time you fall, so please don't give up now
'Cause you're gonna win it all

You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all

You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it

All your life you've wondered, baby
When's it gonna be your turn
Always tried, and been denied
It's like you're always getting burned
Just remember this, my friend

It's darkest before the dawn
You may see a victory, so baby, just hang on Just hang on

You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
You're gonna win it, You're gonna win it all
