

Breakable

The Osmonds

You've been tryin' to walk my path
But you've gone too far
Burnin' all the bridges to my heart
Goin' 'round in circles
Just to end up back at the start

If I go will you fall apart
Are you strong enough to let me be
With all the pieces fallin' on the floor
You've always wanted more than I could give

I never knew you'd be so breakable
I never knew you'd be so breakable

You've been changing every moment in your head
Trying to rearrange the words I've said
'Til they become words
You want to hear instead

If I go will you fall apart
Are you strong enough to let me be
With all the pieces fallin' on the floor
You've always wanted more than I could give

I never knew you'd be so breakable
I never knew you'd be so breakable

Goin' around in circles
Just to end up back at the start

If I go will you fall apart
Are you strong enough to let me be
With all the pieces fallin' on the floor
You've always wanted more than I could give

I never knew you'd be so breakable
I never knew you'd be so breakable