

Fall to Fly

The Osmonds

I'm holding all the pieces now
That broken off and fallen down
This hand to me but my eyes still sting
And I can't help the asking why
But going back won't make it right
I can't unbleed but I can be free

When you're down looking up at the ceiling
Feels like you're starting from the beginning
It's alright 'cause sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

If you've lost everything that you wanted
Love left you all alone broken hearted
It's alright, 'cause sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

I'm picking up, and moving on
No need to care, what's done is done
'Cause now I see
Just how strong I can be

I don't know where I'm gonna go
But any which way the wind blows
You will find me at 5,000 feet

When you're down looking up at the ceiling
Feels like you're starting from the beginning
It's alright cos sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

If you've lost everything that you wanted
Love left you all alone broken hearted
It's alright, 'cause sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

I'll be breaking through the sky
I never felt so alone
But I have never flown so high

Sometimes you lose
Sometimes you win
I'm not afraid to start again
It's hard to laugh but this pain's gonna pass

When you're down looking up at the ceiling
Feels like you're starting from the beginning
It's alright 'cause sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

If you've lost everything that you wanted
Love left you all alone broken hearted
It's alright, 'cause sometimes
You've got to fall, fall, fall to fly

You've got to fall, fall to fly
Fall to fly
