

The Last Chapter

The Osmonds

It's the last chapter in the book of life
From the beginning we knew wrong and right
Would have to be decided, would have to be made clear
Maybe that's the reason we're all gathered here

It's the last chapter. We will make our lives
Fill all the pages the author said to write
To make a perfect ending, to make all dreams come true
That's why He gave us heaven, that's why He gave us you

We love you, we promise you it's true
So hold on until the world is through
Put away your fears, put away your sorrows
As long as we're together bring on tomorrows

It's the last chapter, why worry about the end
In all His wisdom the messenger did send
Answers to all reason, the meaning to all rhyme
A love that lasts forever, eternal in its time

So when you're feeling down, and tears fill your eyes
Just remember now who's standing by your side
A love that lasts forever, a love we know is true
As long as we're together, as long as we have you

We love you, and promise you it's true
So hold on until the world is through
Put away your tears, and put away your sorrows
As long as we're together, bring on tomorrows

In the last chapter, why worry about the end
In all His wisdom the messenger did send
Answers to all meaning, reasons to all rhyme
That's why He gave us heaven, that's why He gave us you

We love you!
