

I Don't Need Her

The Outfield

You said you see me running and that is no surprise
When I was far from danger
I opened my eyes
Now I look back in anger for I did nothing wrong It's just a race for strangers and this race goes on

I'm so glad that I don't need her
And I'm too tired of trying to please her
But in the end I just can't leave her can't leave her tonight

You've got a different story from anything that I've been told But you evade the glory come in from the cold Don't wait until tomorrow don't push it back another day Don't try to hide your sorrow what else can I say?

I'm so glad that I don't need her
And I'm too tired of trying to please her
But in the end I just can't leave her can't leave her tonite, nah!

You said you see me running
but that was no surprise
When I was far from danger
I opened my eyes

I'm so glad that I don't need her
And I'm too tired of trying to please her
But in the end I just can't leave her
can't leave her tonight
I'm so glad that I don't need her
And I'm too tired of trying to please her
But in the end I just can't leave her can't leave her tonite, nuts!
