

I wandered in late one night
Signs all said 'open' but there was no one inside
I thought it might have been a dream
But a voice inside me screamed:
"You're not alone
And this is not where you wanna be"

Oh

The sound of some familiar piano tune
Was comin' from inside of the saloon
So I walked in, relieved that there was someone else
But the keys moved all by themselves
And someone laughed
And someone tapped me on the back, ay

Oh

I tried to run but I was paralyzed
Trapped by the fear that was deep down inside
I thought I was gone 'til you whispered in my ear:
"I'm the one who brought us here"
And you knew
But you didn't wanna know

Oh
