

Final Exit

The Pale White

For the final time we arrive
And we will leave through the same door
It's such a shame how things change
Yet we coexist in the same world

This is no home, it's a house
It always has and always will be
I realise I just keep making it all
Making it about me

Well I've been changing
But that won't make a difference now
It won't make a difference now

Do you remember the time we had a fight
Because you lost the remote?
Well it was on my side
But my pride wouldn't let me tell you

We couldn't get through the fire, the flames got higher
When did we get so defiant?
Always the same, wouldn't try it
And now it's getting too hot
Too hot, too hot, too hot, too hot
It's too hot, too hot for two

For the final time
It's the final time
For the final time, we say goodbye
And we will make our exit now

We will make our exit now
We will make our exit now
