

Trapped Nerve

The Pale White

The cray young is a filing cabinet
For all the things we pretend are perfect

If she wants to dance, then I'm out tonight
I'll be the loose when things get tight
Oh we're stepping screams, sit in denial
And make out like everything's alright

I hope that everything's alright
Because when everything's alright
I'll know that everything's alright

If happiness is a clear horizon
There's a hail that feuds from the sunset

Increase the dose, swallow the light
Don't feel addiction let's get high
Take me to the strange, cause I can't survive
And no one would everything's alright

I hope that everything's alright
Because when everything's alright
I'll know that everything's all-

I hope that everything's alright
Because when everything's alright
I'll know that everything's alright
I'll give you everything

I hope that everything's alright
Because when everything's alright
I'll know that everything's alright
