

Featherstone

The Paper Kites

Wake up to the sound
of your fleeting heart Wake up to the sound o f your fleeting heart
When you go, what you leave
is a work of art
On my chest, on my heart

She went out to the hay in the morning grace She went out and got lost in a tall hedge maze Where'd you go? Where'd you go?
Why'd you leave this place?
On my heart, on my face

And my love is yours
but your love's not mine
So I'll go but we know
I'll see you down the line
And we'll hate what we've lost but we'll love what we find
And I'm feeling fine, we've made it to the coastline

Ooh, ooh, ooh ooh ooh
Ooh, ooh, ooh ooh ooh

Past all the signs of the slow decline Live like your love wasn't meant for mine Now you've gone, now you've gone to a different life Til the loneliest side

Wake up to the sound
of your fleeting heart
Wake up to the sound
of your fleeting heart
is a work of art
On my chest, on my heart

And my love is yours
but your love's not mine
So I'll go, but we know
I'll see you down the line
And oh, I'm feeling fine,

Ooh, ooh, ooh ooh ooh
