

No Harm

The Parlor Mob

You're a child again
You do not mean no harm
You're a child again
You do not mean no harm

If you open up your heart
And be just who you are
Life goes on and on, and on and on again
Life goes on and on, and on and on again

And one of these days
The sun's gonna rise and the fear that the sail
Has to keep us apart
Will be gone

But we finally see
That we all bleed the same
From the hearts in our chest
That are finally beating as one

If we open up our hearts
And be just who we are
Life goes on and on, and on and on again
Life goes on and on, and on and on again

If we open up our hearts
And be just who we are
Life goes on and on, and on and on again
Life goes on and on, and on and on again
And on and on, and on and on
And on and on, and on and on again
