

Sweet As a Stolen Kiss

The Parlotones

Yesterday I had such massive dreams, today they're dwarfed by a reality
Tomorrow I'll be just like all the world, a puppet to those cor porate fools
Hallelujah
Don't walk this time
Get down on my knees, pray to the supreme need to have belief in my twisted schemes bessech my mind to seize so i can get some sleep
Know that talk is cheap between the sheets.
Bitter like the devil but sweet as a stolen kiss
Man got a taste of gold, so many souls were sold Learn stories from the old better know when to fold Somewhere in-between I'm a human being
Seduced by all I've seen
Both the bitter and the sweet
Bitter like the devil
But sweet as a stolen kiss
Siamese mind, jekyll and hide
Bitter like the devil but sweet as a stolen kiss
Hallelujahs won't work this time
