Is it good or is it bad Is it old or is it new Change change Soon the day when it will all change I'm waiting patiently for the day When it's going to change
It's all the same for miles around You love to hate the band Wi

Don't let your only fear break away That way your phoney cause Will live another day
The tables are not turned Until you find A solution to a proble m Within your mind Your views can change Just like your clothes So what's the answ er No one knows You'll have to grow up another day You'll have to find out anot her way Questions can't be answered, ain't that strange? Fight your endless fight and n othings gonna change
