No Satisfaction

The Partisans

No Satisfaction guaranteed Saturday means something Crave the thing you know you need Right now you're worth nothing Going places you don't know Days keep going nowhere One last coin wont save your name Or get that ticket out of here Work all week get some say Feeling 5 years older Make that vote get off your knees Or start the whole thing over

I tried living on the other side The grass ain't greener but it looked alright Was given nothing for the pain I felt So I got right out

The boss got fed the contract said Blackmail by emotion Fuck that game I'll clear this head Break my back for no one

The suits inside the boardroom like To say you'll get no mention And that's because redundancy Will get your best attention

I know you're fucked over And living on automatic I know you're messed over And living on someone's handout I know you're fucked over I want it all for nothing
