

Running Wild And Free

The Picturebooks

Running wild and free
Can't you see I'd rather burn
And never fade away

Howling at the moon
When you're six feet down
Gone way too soon
But what's the big deal now?

But when you're living so heavy
You should always be traveling light
And with a heart so hungry
Dying's gonna be on your mind

Running wild and free
Can't you see I'd rather burn
And never fade away
Running wild and free
Everything you left behind
To play god for a day

At the end of the day
We're conflicting souls
Looking for a way
To regain control

But when you're living so heavy
You should always be traveling light
And with a heart so hungry
Dying's gonna be on your mind

Running wild and free
Can't you see I'd rather burn
And never fade away
Running wild and free
To play god for a day

Paid your price
But who got paid
You romanticize
Choking on your decay

Running wild and free
Can't you see I'd rather burn
And never fade away
Running wild and free
To play god for a day
Just to play god for a day
Just to play god for a day
