

Open Water

The Pineapple Thief

I could've lived to see this day
But you know me better than to think of someone else
I could take you to open waters if you knew better
I only wish I could

I just wanted to show you the world I know
I just wanted to hold you, at least until you let me go
And God you must hate me, I left your world alone
And God you must hate me for leaving you all alone

I just wanted to show you, to show the world I know
Just wanted to hold you, at least until you go
But God you must hate me, I left your world alone
And God you must hate me for leaving your world alone
And God you must hate me, I left your world alone
And God you must hate me for leaving your world alone

I could've lived to see this day but you know me better
