

Don't you think you've gotta do it
Just let the horses feed where they please
The die is cast and now it's lost forever
One moment paves the ending for us all

You what have you done it's the end for us
And your cold dark heart marches on
Razed to the ground no hope to be found torn away from us
And your cold dark heart marches on

You what have you done it's the end for us
And your cold dark heart marches on
Razed to the ground no hope to be found torn away from us
And your cold dark heart marches on

The fight is over
Just a permanent defence
The legions there beside you
Not anymore in any sense
The wounds reminding
Of this necessary end
The wounds reminding
Of this necessary end

(And the die is cast)
A necessary end
(And the die is cast)
A necessary end

Look, don't you see what you've done it's the end for us
And your cold dark heart marches on
Razed to the ground no hope to be found torn away from us
But your cold dark heart marches on
