Little Razorblade

The Pink Spiders

Hey hey little razorblade girl you're so so dangerous You say you wanna try and get away And that' just so obvious But I've got the keys so lets put it into drive

Hey hey little razorblade girl you're so so serious You're only pretty when you walk away And you act oblivious But I've got the keys so lets put it into drive

But don't call it a crush, don't ccall it a crush baby You know I love you too much To be crushed like that

Give me back my heart tonight
I'm sick of never smiling cause you're so uptight
Cause we know its not alright
When neither one of us is putting up a fight

And you're right that its wrong
To spend the night alone
You stand on the shore as I'm treading water and wave as I sink like a stone

Hey hey little razorblade girl you're so so obnoxious This lucid dream is not reality and it makes me so anxious

Hey hey little razorblade girl you're so so dangerous You say you wanna try and get away And that' just so obvious
