

No Warning

The Rabble

There's no warning,
There's no warning,
When the walls start crashing to the ground
There's no warning,
There's no warning
And your only plan is nowhere to be found

I'll tell you, we're an open-case struggle,
A-singing the blues when the mood is indigo
Black chords struck in a whitelight chateau

And not like robin hood,
The king among those who delve with thieves
Or Jesus Christ to the disciples of the aggrieved,
We are trivial

Well your fine line need not describe
Where you think i should belong on the tightwire
(There is no pity, you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity, you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity)
Hell no
'Cause there comes a time in everyone's life
When death comes looking for you
And you're on trial
(There is no pity, you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity, you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity)
There is no warning - warning, warning

Blank pieces in a puzzle,
Hypocrites analyse prospect turncoats
We're scrutinized by a unified antidote

Like worms in the sun they squirm,
They've got fundamentalist street-smart
But they're dried up inside, they're withered to the fucking heart,
So artificial

Well your fine line need not describe
Where you think i should belong on the tightwire
(There is no pity, you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity, you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity)
Hell no
'Cause there comes a time in everyone's life
When death comes looking for you
And you're on trial
(There is no pity, you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity, you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity)
There is no warning - warning, warning

The fool before trial
Is yet to behold,
There is no golden bail-out

'Cause time cannot be sold
The new education
Has just now been told,
When you're six feet under,
The soil is brown not gold

There is no pity when you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity 'cause you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity, hell no
There is no pity when you're dead and not pretty
You'll get no pity 'cause you're dead and not pretty
There is no pity and no warning - none
