

Not Afraid

The Rare Occasions

Crashing down in a fit of ferocity
An ice cold ricochet scattering across the lake
When I get through to you, will you care?

For I've been living inside this sanctuary
Walls propped up in a suffocating masquerade
If you knew the truth, would it break?

Still I fall from here (away from here)
I know I'll fade away from here (away from here)

Now they're rolling out the kerosene carpet
Light it up, burn it down, they'll see what they wanna see
Did I fool you too, innocence?

Something's wrong and we don't talk about it
Oceans shift a thousand times around me
Something's wrong and we don't talk about it
Oceans shift a thousand times around me

Still I fall from here (away from here)
I know I'll fade away from here (away from here)
I'm not afraid
I'm not afraid
I'm not afraid
I'm not afraid
