The Rare Occasions

Face it
There's no easy way around
We're just gonna have to take it
Like a shoulder to the head
Time is but a set of patterns
And in the heat of the hour
You're feeling the interval scatter
It goes on and on and on and on

How could I have fallen
I'll take another number
Going through the motions
One after another

Better learn to be forgotten
Linger till the knot unravels
With the weight of an ocean
The sequence is holding you captive
And all you ever know
Feels so massive
It goes on and on and on and on

How could I have fallen
I'll take another number
Going through the motions
One after another

How could I have fallen
I'll take another number
Going through the motions
One after another

Yea, I'm sure you'll turn a profit
But is this really what you wanted?
Oh yea, I'm sure you'll turn a profit
But is it really what you wanted at all?
