

You Don't Know

The Rascals

It seems so hard to keep a smile upon my face
Pretending I'm happy that she's gone
I must admit it's getting harder everyday to carry on

So if you see her, please don't tell her how I feel I'd rather that she never knew we met no
It's better that she doesn't worry anymore, she gets upset

You don't know what it means to say goodbye
Try to hide all the hurt that's deep inside
She said goodbye, made me cry, wanna die

Woke up one morning and discovered she was gone
And a note she wrote in haste is all I found Don't try to find me, don't try to bring me back, I'm leaving t own

Since that morning I just haven't been the same
I've got to find a way to bring her home
No matter how I try, I just can't seem to make it on my own no, no

You don't know what it is to say goodbye
Nothing left but a teardrop in your eye
She said goodbye, made me cry, wanna die

You don't know what it is to say goodbye
Nothing left but a teardrop in your eye
She said goodbye, made me cry, wanna die

You don't know...
