The Ready Set

Locked up in my head
On my own, swimming around an island
Treasure map to take me where your heart is
You could think I'm funny, like you once did
I've been a cold mess
Laying all my problems on your bed
Sinking till I'm underneath the mattress
Feeling like the monster that I swore to keep away

I've been an anchor thats pulling on you
Stopping and stalling is all that I do
You were so bright but I painted you blue
You dont deserve that
You dont deserve that

So I'm holding on, holding on
Trying to stitch my self back together
I won't be gone for long, gone for long
Cuz I'm working on getting better
I fell apart like I'm a jigsaw puzzle
It breaks my heart to see you stress and struggle
All I want all I want is to stitch myself back together
For you
Na na na na na na for you
Na na na na na na for you

Won't I fix this
Maybe we can stay in on the weekends
Do the things that you wanted that I couldn't Cause I was too distracted getting faded
With some actresses and running from my past

I've been an anchor thats pulling on you
Stopping and stalling is all that I do
You were so bright but I painted you blue
You dont deserve that
You dont deserve that

So I'm holding on, holding on
Trying to stitch my self back together
I won't be gone for long, gone for long
Cuz I'm working on getting better
I fell apart like I'm a jigsaw puzzle
It breaks my heart to see you stress and struggle
All I want all I want is to stitch myself back together
For you
Na na na na na na for you
Na na na na na na for you

So I'm holding on, holding on
Trying to stitch my self back together
I won't be gone for long, gone for long
Cuz I'm working on getting better
I fell apart like I'm a jigsaw puzzle
It breaks my heart to see you stress and struggle
All I want all I want is to stitch myself back together
