

Telemetry

The Ready Set

And when it ends
I'll be in the reach
Waiting for you
A bright vision of life
Through the night
I am always with you

And when it ends
I'll be in the reach
Waiting for you
A bright vision of life
Through the night
I am always with you

Ooo all we can do
Is attempt to design the truth
Find new versions of life
Hoping something
Out there is still undefined

Why are we reaching up
When reality is on the ground?
If I look down
They're gonna figure out I don't know what I'm doing
Spent so long pushing through it
Imma try to restart myself
Telemetry never helped

It's just desolation in dark weeks
And it's dying to get the ghost off me
To get so above that I don't sink
'Cause that water's deep
That water's deep
But this vicious cycle's enlightening
And for once I think that I might be close

And when it ends
I'll be in the reach
Waiting for you
A bright vision of life
Through the night
I am always with you

Ooo so what I'll do
Is attempt to divine a truth
A realized version of life
Where I'm nothing but honest and stable and kind
Why are we reaching up when reality is on the ground?
If I step back and just look down
Maybe I'll figure it out

And when it ends
I'll be in the reach
Waiting for you
A bright vision of life
Through the night
I am always with you
